

BOSTON ORGANICS

2014 Year in Review

2014 was an exciting year full of great milestones.

We're very happy with the growth we experienced while adhering to our mission to give back to the community and promote sustainable living.

76,675
bunches of local greens delivered

45,915
pounds of local apples delivered

1,979
deliveries made by cargo bike

36,835
pounds of leftover produce diverted from landfill and composted

Our recycling program with Save That Stuff saved:

523 adult trees
490 cubic yards of landfill space
146,281 kilowatts of electricity
86 barrels of oil

$710,110
worth of produce purchased from local and regional sources

100 percent of our produce certified organic and GMO-free

115+
nonprofits, schools and community organizations supported by Boston Organics donations and sponsorships

73,120
pounds of produce donated to Food for Free, who delivered it to those in need. We were their largest single-source, non-corporate donor in 2014!

Onward and Upward
We're looking forward to everything 2015 has in store!
